Description

The expansive flybridge can accommodate a large dinghy with davit. A raised L-shaped settee with abundant storage below, cocktail table, and wet bar with icemaker are positioned near the helm station, with space available for two helm seats. The large aft deck, with spacious lazarette and engine room access, may be enclosed to provide even more relaxing living space in inclement weather.

The 16' beam is employed to offer roomy and welcoming main deck and below deck accommodations. Rich hand rubbed teak cabin soles, paneling and cabinetry are featured throughout. The salon is bright and airy with an open floor plan that gives owners the freedom to arrange their selected furniture and entertainment components, or to design built-ins to suit their needs. A standard layout is offered for the galley, but it may be configured to accept additional or optional appliances.

Stairs lead from the galley to the spacious master stateroom located amidships. Classic cabinetry, louvered hanging lockers, and mirrored vanity accent the walk-around queen bed with drawer storage below. The ensuite head features VacuFlush toilet and large separate shower stall. A watertight door grants entrance to the engine room. 5"6" headroom and maneuverability improve access and maintenance to all systems.

The forward accommodations may be entered from the master stateroom or by stairs leading from the pilothouse. To port is the guest head with Vacuflush toilet and handheld shower wand. To starboard is storage that may be fitted with full size stackable washer and dryer. The guest stateroom forward may be configured with a traditional V-berth and filler, or with single bunks. Plentiful storage is provided with both options.

The pilothouse fulfills the promise of comfort at sea. Visibility is excellent ahead and abeam. Access to port and starboard side decks and the flybridge is provided, while spiral stairs lead to accommodations below. A raised L-shaped settee with drop-leaf table doubles as a convenient watch berth and appealing retreat for casual dining. The instrument console is efficient and well-appointed to accept the owners' choice of electronics with ample space for a fixed helm seat. Built to endure, this impressive off-shore cruiser successfully blends comfort and purpose.
